ENCLOSURE A

LEGEND

Point #1. Building Area:

[redacted] one building was under construction. It was of red brick, very large with a curved roof, and was surrounded by small wooden barracks used by the workmen. The walls and roof of the large building were in place. The area around the building was dug up. [redacted] hearsay information that this construction was to be completed during 1953.

2. Runway: Under construction, concrete, 2½ to 3 km. long, 50 to 60 m. wide. There were no revetments, taxi strips, perimeter tracks, etc. under construction.

3. Klecany Airfield: [redacted] heard that female military pilots were being trained here. In Prague, in 1953, [redacted] saw women pilots in military uniform and wearing wings. These pilots trained in, and flew, only Fischer (sic) Storch and C-106 aircraft.

4. Highway: From Prague to Kralupy /5014N-1419E/. It was of asphalt construction, five meters wide, in fair condition. Trees lined both sides of the highway.
